about us

Hello! We are Sam and Will, a loving couple from North Carolina who have been happily together for 16 years. Our family includes three energetic dogs and a cuddly cat, creating a lively and nurturing home. We share a passion for traveling and exploring the great outdoors, always seeking new adventures together. Will dedicates his time to his work as an emergency room physician, where he cares for others, while Sam is a partner in a property management company, focusing on building community relationships. We believe in providing a loving, safe, and joyful environment for children to thrive. We are excited about the possibility of expanding our family through adoption and are committed to offering a compassionate and supportive home filled with love and laughter.

OUR HOME + PETS

Our home is a warm and inviting four-bedroom oasis nestled on nearly two acres of fenced yard. We share our lives with a wonderful mix of pets: Diesel, our oldest pup at 18, is a rescue adoptee who fills our home with sweetness and love. Peony and Frank, our two-year-old teacup Chihuahuas, are inseparable buddies who overcame anxiety after being rescued together from difficult beginnings. Rounding out our furry family is Aurora, our 17-year-old kitty, who is both cuddly and affectionate. Located just two miles from Will's workplace and with Sam's flexible remote schedule, we enjoy a vibrant neighborhood with parks and a university nearby, making it an ideal place for family adventures.

WHAT LED US TO ADOPTION

Our journey toward adoption has been deeply personal for both of us. Will, as an adoptee himself, has always understood the profound impact a loving family can have on a child's life. His experiences in the emergency room, where he cares for children in critical situations, have further fueled his passion to create a safe, nurturing environment for kids in need. Together, we've always dreamed of opening our home to children, providing them with love, safety, and opportunities to thrive. We believe every child deserves a stable, supportive family, and we are committed to fostering a home that not only embraces them but also empowers them to grow and flourish.

AND TRADITIONS

Our extended family is a vibrant and loving network that enriches our lives. Will's parents live just five miles away and are retired and eagerly anticipating the opportunity to spend quality time with their future grandchildren. They already dote on our pets, treating them like their own grand-animals, and their enthusiasm for family is infectious. Additionally, our two-year-old godson and his family are just a short drive down the road, ensuring we have regular playdates and cherished moments together. We're fortunate to have three other close couples with small children living within a mile of our home, creating a supportive community where kids can grow up together.

Our family thrives on love and compassion, and we prioritize nurturing these connections. While we have several other family members spread across the state and the East Coast, we make it a point to stay connected and visit whenever possible. This strong network of family and friends provides a solid foundation of support, love, and shared experiences that we look forward to expanding as we welcome children into our lives through adoption.
